

New Research in Phenomenology, Psychology and Psychoanalysis

Annual Conference of the Romanian Society for Phenomenology organized by the Department of Philosophy, The Department of Philosophy in Hungarian Language and Center for Applied Philosophy of Babeş-Bolyai University from Cluj-Napoca

with the support of the European Foundation Cluj-Napoca and The Regional Committee of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in Cluj (KAB)

November 24th-25th, 2017
Cluj-Napoca, Romania

Coordinators:

Ion Copoeru, Attila Szigeti, Cristian Bodea

Plenary speakers

The Emergence of Violence and the Modifications of Intersubjectivity

Cristian Ciocan
University of Bucharest, Romania

Phénoménologie et psychanalyse. Pour une nouvelle architectonique du phénomène

Virgil Ciomoş
Babeş-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, Romania

What do We Name Body?

Dorothee Legrand,
CNRS, Ecole Normale Supérieure, Archives Husserl, Paris, France

Subjects of Desire

Delia Popa
Villanova University, Villanova, PA, USA

Human Suffering and Pain: When Phenomenology Meets the Clinic

Bustan Smadar
Philosophy Department, Sorbonne Paris 4, France
Department of Cognitive and Clinical Neuroscience, Central Institute of Mental Health, University of Heidelberg, Mannheim, Germany

“An experience that brought something spectral into the present”

Nostalgia Between Phenomenology and Psychoanalysis

Dylan Trigg,
University College Dublin, Ireland

Les modèles de l'inconscient: phénoménologie, psychanalyse et sciences cognitives

Tamás Ullmann
ELTE Budapest, Hungary